He is also introducing some excellent California wines to the people of Carson, as well as foreign and domestic cigars of the finest quality. Drop in and inspect his stock. d 13 tf

Sandrock and Millard, practical plumbers and gasfitters, have opened a shop in Pick Mills' old stand South Carson St., and propose to do all work in their line at prices so low that you don't have to mortgage your property to pay them. Stoves and ranges and all kinds of tinware on hand, at very reasonable rates. Razors and scissors sharpened. j31tf

Two more carloads of melons at Chedie's—cheap too.

Tracy Chedie sent 150 water-melons to Genoa yesterday.

Morris Davis, a well known printer, is seriously ill in Reno.

Grape growers in Southern California decline to pay the Chinese Grape Pickers' Union $1.75 a day and have put Indians in the field instead. The Indians do excellent work.

Bill Zirn proposes to throw his Pine Nut mine open for inspection tomorrow. It should have been done long ago. The mystery has been a set back to that camp all along.

Business men of Mason Valley estimate that the Indians spent $1,000 in and about Pizon Switch during their last big dance. They consumed about three thousand pounds of beef alone.

Work was resumed at the Pamlico mine last week. Only a small force of men is employed as yet. They are now working 300 feet below the surface and have a fine ledge of $18 ore. The indications are that it will lead to rich ore.

By means of a new process—devised by M. Raoul Pictet, the eminent French chemist and physicist—the manufacture of absolutely pure chloroform is now for the first time made practicable.

Alger states distinctly that the Blaine boom is carrying everything before it and that he is for Blaine and out of the race himself. If Blaine is nominated on a square silver platform he will make the greatest race on record.

The Axle cutter intended to go to Genoa last Monday but work arrived in such quantities that it kept him here this week. People are just beginning to appreciate his work as he seems to be doing a land office business.

Oliver Roberts' excursion stage to Lincoln tomorrow will leave Carson early in the morning and return the same in the evening. A few more can be accommodated and a reduced rate secured by applying at the Arlington.

The moonlight dance at Cook's ranch to-night will be largely attended. A delegation from Virginia, Gold Hill, Silver City and Genoa will be on hand, besides the already large crowd of Carsonites who intend to be there.

There will be a match race, five-eighths of a mile, between William Thompson's colt Joe, and Jim Snowden for $100 a side and $50 added; also, a three minute class trotting race under auspices of the Nevada Jockey Club at Steamboat next Sunday.

It is a poor week now which does not bring a new gold excitement. Within a fortnight we have had two in Nevada and one in Washington. Now comes an alleged big strike in Idaho. The prospector who attempts to keep up with all these new camps will find his energies severely taxed.

A young woman living near Isabella, Ga., recently gave birth to twins. Mrs. Alvord, a farmer's wife with no children of her own, learning that the young mother desired to dispose of her offspring, offered to adopt the babes. The mother demanded 50 cents apiece for the infants, and when the price was paid gladly gave them up.

Jimmy Fair, Jr., is round making the circuit of the District Fairs in California with a dice game and liberal libations of bug juice. It seems a pity that a young man with millions at his back and every opportunity to make a mark, has no other ambition in life than to be an associate of blacklegs and drunkards.

Gillis Throws Light.

A few days ago the APPEAL asserted that Gillis was the man that challenged Twain to a duel. He sends us the following:

EDITOR APPEAL:—What a perverter of ancient history you are! The facts in the case of the celebrated Laird-Clemmens duel are these: Laird, one of the proprietors of the Virginia Union, challenged Mark Twain to mortal combat. I was Mark's second, and trained him so he could hit a barn at ten steps—everytime—sometimes—with his eyes shut. (Mark had a peculiar trick of shutting his eyes whenever he pulled the trigger.) Laird hearing of Mark's wonderful proficiency with his six-shooter refused to fight, and Willis, Laird's second, took the matter up and challenged Mark to fight with broadaxes. Mark not being accustomed to fighting with broadaxes, the affair was dropped. For the veracity of the above, is it not recorded in the Territorial Enterprise of thirty years ago? Yours, S. E. GILLIS.

[There is no truth in the above. Gillis is avoiding complicity in the affair for fear of arrest. He gets everything mixed that happened over 20 years ago.—ED. APPEAL.]

Obscene Tongs.

The police night before last arrested a young man for using obscene and blasphemous language. The officers noticed two ladies leave the sidewalk to protect their ears from offense, and immediately made the arrest.

After the arrest was made scores of his friends begged the officers to let him go on the grounds that he would lose his job, and he was helping his mother, and all that sort of thing. The officers as a rule protect men who "get off" once in a great while, but when boys or men become characters and press the limit of endurance, emboldened by a long period of immunity—or until they think they have a pull—it is time to act, and to act firmly. Mothers and daughters are entitled to as much protection as the bleary-eyed, blasphemous, lecherous crew that takes possession of the sidewalk. If they have mothers and sisters to support, the time to think of that is ever present.—Enterprise.

Carson is frequently troubled with filthy hoodlums who spend their time insulting ladies who are unfortunate enough to pass them on the street. Jail the whole gang.

To-morrow at Steamboat.

It is a common saying that so and so "don't know any more than Thompson's colt." People wishing to ascertain the intellectual status of the animal will do well to be at Steamboat Springs where the aforesaid Thompson's colt will run five-eighths of a mile against Jim Snowden for $150.

Thompson says his colt is "in it." There will also be some trotting races and the first of the series of five games of baseball will be played.

All in all it will be a lively day at Steamboat.

Waited for Himself.

A good thing is told on a Carsonite. The story is that the gentleman left his office and on the door posted a card with the words: "Back in ten minutes. Take a good seat and wait." At the foot of the stairs he suddenly remembered that he had forgotten something. Slowly he climbed the stairs and once more he became submerged in thought. At the door of his own office he paused and read the card on the door. Then he deliberately sat down and waited for himself to come back.

Will go to the Home.

The money deposited in the Bullion Bank for the Pratt fund will be turned over to the Orphans' Home on Monday for Christmas presents for the children. Any person who contributed to the fund and objects to this disposition of it can get their money back by calling at the Bank to-day and receipting for the same.

Esmeralda county is said to produce from 600 to 900 tons of borax per month and it is said that no white men are employed at the works.

Not Like Haines.

As an Oregon sheep-raiser named Alexander was driving a flock of 10,000 mutton sheep to the Sound market, a small canyon was reached into which the front sheep were crowded until it was filled with the dying leaders, over which the rest of the flock passed. Three hundred of the best sheep were killed.—Gazette.

This isn't a marker to the way Jim Haines lost his sheep in '52. He was coming over the mountains with 2,000 sheep and one night they huddled in a ravine. He laid his head on his black grip sack by the fire and went to sleep. When he awoke the grip sack was on fire. It contained powder, black and giant. He hadn't a moment to lose and grabbing the burning sack he flung it into the night. It fell in the midst of the sheep and exploded. The air was filled with unprotected wool and mutton chops for twenty minutes. Haines only drove thirteen sheep into Genoa. It was a sad day for Haines, but he bore it like a Trojan. The people of Placerville, however, say he did well on the road as he only left there with two sheep.

Pining for Knowledge.

An Indian writes to the APPEAL that when he went to the Stewart Institute he was told that he was to learn all about God. He says that they told him where Christ, pher Columbus was born, General Grant and George Washington but up to the time he left he was never told where God was born.

False Economy.

Is practiced by many people, who buy inferior articles of food because cheaper than standard goods. Surely infants are entitled to the best food obtainable. It is a fact that the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk is the best infant food. Your grocer and druggist keep it. 2t

Impounded.

A brown horse, star in forehead, branded on left shoulder X and on left thigh X and M. If the owner does not prove property and pay charges by Friday morning Aug. 21, 10 A. M. the animal will be sold at public auction. 3t SHERIFF BOTSFORD.

Sickness Among Children.

Especially infants, is prevalent more or less at all times, but is largely avoided by giving proper nourishment and wholesome food. The most successful and reliable of all is the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk. Your grocer and druggist keep it. 2t

Last night's dispatches deny the statement that Blaine is in the Presidential boom.

Henry Daugherty returned from Pine Nut yesterday. He says Zirn admitted him to his mine and allowed him to pick into the crevice and dislodge the chunks of gold. The vein is about two inches wide and well loaded—for bulls and bears.

An expert from Arizona created a flutter of excitement by declaring that he had found a big tin mine near Pine Grove. He was so positive about it that Mr. Wilson, formerly of Carson, sent several lots of the ore abroad for analysis. Not a trace of tin was found. Mr. Wilson is about $50 loser and has no tin mine.
